

20% superior suction vs the leading model* *based on sealed suction at hose with connector covered

Claim Verification:

When considering the #1 top selling portable deep cleaner in the UK, the best selling model in unit sales for the last 12 months (ending March 2024) is the Vax SpotWash Spot Cleaner. This model represents 31% of the total annual units sold in the last year, meaning that it is the leading model in the UK.

The BISSELL® SpotClean® Pro portable deep cleaner was tested against the Vax SpotWash Spot Cleaner using an industry standard suction measurement test, ASTM F558. The two products were tested for their sealed suction performance, measured in Inches of Water (IOW) at the hose opening. The hose openings were sealed per the requirements of the test method, including points of connection on the hose opening.

When the average sealed suction measures of the two units were compared, the BISSELL® SpotClean® Pro showed more than a 20% improvement versus the Vax unit.
